In order to prepare for a smooth registration process, you will need:

- Parents “Respect in Sport” certification completed. Visit <https://hnlparent.respectgroupinc.com/>
- Your child’s Hockey Canada number - a number is assigned to your child once the Respect in Sport certificate is completed.
- If you have completed your RIS previously you will still need to log into your HNL Parent Respect in Sport account and link your child/children to the new Hockey Canada Registry. (Coaches need a separate RIS for a leader, this is not the same as the parent RIS)
- If you have multiple children, ensure they are all listed under your account.

Follow these images for easy instruction for the RIS page:

1) Go to the respect in sport website noted above and chose your preferred language.

2) Login to your Respect in Sport account. Create one if you do not have one.

If you have previously completed RIS, follow instruction on recovering your username and/or password if you don't remember it. Create a new account if you have not previously completed this course. Only one parent per child is required.

3) Click on Profile (once you have completed the RIS this will be available to go back into)
